- Start chatting with CareerWise Chabot
- You can start by greeting “Hi” and the chatbot assistant will start prompting question.

The screenshot shows a web-based chat interface. At the top, there are browser navigation icons, a URL bar showing "localhost:8080", and a tab labeled "angeliqb borromeo". On the left, a sidebar titled "History" lists three previous sessions: "angeliqb borromeo" (updated 7:18 PM), "angeliqb borromeo" (updated 10:06 PM), and "angeliqb borromeo" (updated 10:44 PM). The main chat area has a message from "Bot" at 10:44 PM: "Welcome to the myUpskill Chat Bot! We can identify careers that best suit your aspirations. All you need to do is answer a few simple questions. Shall we begin?". Below it, a user's message "hi" is typed in the input field, with a blue "Send" button to its right.

- Below the bot as to “describe the in details what you would like to do for a living”

The screenshot shows the same web-based chat interface. The sidebar and previous sessions remain the same. The bot's message at 10:45 PM reads: "Describe in detail what you would like to do for a living.". A large blue message bubble from "You" at 10:47 PM contains a detailed response: "Throughout my academic journey, I have developed a deep understanding of financial management and accounting principles. My goal is to use this knowledge to manage clients' investment portfolios effectively. As a result, I aspire to work in a role that involves overseeing multiple accounts and making informed decisions based on market trends and economic indicators. Furthermore, I am passionate about developing strategies to maximize returns while minimizing risk. Ultimately, I aim to build long-term relationships with clients and help them achieve their financial goals." The input field at the bottom contains the text "Math and English", with a blue "Send" button to its right.

- The bot will ask couple of other question

This screenshot shows a web-based chat interface. On the left, there's a sidebar with a history section containing three entries from the user "angelieqborromeo". The main area is a conversation window with a message from the bot asking about stress tolerance, followed by a message from the user "You" indicating an average response. Below that, the bot asks if working hard is important, and the user "You" responds that it is important. At the bottom, the user types "Math and English" and sends it.

- You can click the green line to get your results

This screenshot shows the same web-based chat interface. The history sidebar remains the same. In the main conversation, the bot says "Thank you for responding!" twice. At the bottom of the screen, there is a large green horizontal bar with the text "Get results!". A callout bubble points to this bar with the instruction "Just click the green line when you are ready to see your results!". The user has typed "Math and English" in the message input field at the bottom.

- List of available careers can be seen and check by clicking “more” button.
